Dominant needs is an interactive questionnaire in which students learn about the dominant needs that determine behaviour.

For students to estimate the relevant dominance of three needs which have proven to be vital to professional development – achievement, power and affiliation.
The questionnaire is composed of 15 questions. Students have to use a scale to describe how the sentence compares with the way in which they behave in working environments.
Once they have completed the questionnaire, they receive the results as well as the aggregate results of their class.
