Identifying competencies is an interactive exercise divided into two parts. The first part has four descriptions of job positions for which students have to identify the key competencies. In the second part, students have to establish the required levels of each of the identified competencies.

The learning objectives are the following:

• Identify competencies
• Establish levels of necessary competencies
To help to identify the competencies, job descriptions with additional information are provided to students.
Once the students have selected the competencies, they receive detailed feedback about the main competencies in each case.
