High Performance Teams is an interactive technical note that explains subjects such as the necessary conditions for the creation, consolidation and future trends of high performance teams.

The student will work in an interactive manner through the different chapters:

• Conditions to create a high performance team
• The consolidation of high performance teams
• Future tendencies
Students become aware that changes taking place in the organisation require new concepts in the human resources structure. Using numerous interactive exercises, students develop the competencies necessary for creating, forming and developing efficient teams.
