Technology plan in a company is an Interactive technical note that describes the technological management process in a company and its strategic importance.

This interactive technical note includes the following sections:

- Strategy and technology
- The design of a technologic plan
- Practical case
The basic functions of a technological plan are developed as well as the tools associated with it. Graphs, examples and charts are given in order to complement the concepts learned. It also includes interactive exercises where students can test their knowledge.
This interactive technical note also has a practical case where students can carry out a technology plan for a company that develops airplane parts.
